

HEAD HUNTING SEARCH FIRMS

Engaging a head-hunting search firm to seek the best candidates for a position may be the most effective way to attract a specialist staff member, particularly if the potential pool of applicants resides overseas. This strategy may be used in conjunction with, or in lieu of, a standard recruitment process for the following positions / situations:

- Senior appointments
- Emerging or current disciplines in high demand
- General staff in high demand professions
- If standard advertising has not been successful
- Discrete/ selective targeting across the sector

Please discuss this recruitment strategy with your Human Resource Officer prior to contacting a head-hunting firm.
