

PLEASE NOTE: This sequence is not available to students who commence in 2012.

Bachelor of Science Psychology major

120 Unit Australian Psychological Society (APS) 3 year accreditation sequence

	Directed and Core Courses	Major (APS Psych)	Other Approved Courses	Electives
1000 level (1 st year)	Mathematics component: 10 units MATH1110 or MATH1210)	Data analysis component: 10 units STAT1070	20 units * PSYC1010 * PSYC1020	20 units Any 20 units from 1000 level courses in BSc	20 units 20 units free choice
2000 level (2 nd year)	Scientific practice component: 10 units SCIT2000	40 units * STAT2000 30 units from list of 2000 level courses for BSc APS Accreditation Sequence		30 units 30 units free choice
3000 level (3 rd year)		60 units * PSYC3000 50 units from list of 3000 level courses for BSc APS Accreditation Sequence		20 units 20 units free choice

NOTES:

- Students interested in a Psychology career should meet the 120 Unit APS Accredited Sequence in Psychology or enroll in the Bachelor of Psychology program. Please see http://www.newcastle.edu.au/program/10323.html#major_psychology_\(120_unit_apac_accredited_sequence\)). Pathways into a career in Psychology also exist in the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Social Science (<http://www.newcastle.edu.au/faculty/education-arts/>)
- The Program Handbook is the official document listing all the rules you need to meet, plus courses required or available. Please see <http://www.newcastle.edu.au/program/10323.html>
- Students should check assumed knowledge requirements for all courses, especially in Mathematics.
- Courses labeled * are compulsory in the major.
- For further information about Your Program and Suggested Pathways, including guidelines explaining Majors, Directed, Core, Approved and Elective courses, Mathematics requirements and exemptions, plus Checklists to track your progress, please see <http://www.newcastle.edu.au/faculty/science-it/pathways/index.html>

THIS INFORMATION IS CURRENT AS AT JANUARY 2012 AND IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

FACULTY OF
SCIENCE AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

www.newcastle.edu.au

SUGGESTED CAREER PATHS