

Rock and Water Program

skills for physical-social teaching

How do we teach social competencies so that students make changes on the inside?

How do we build a sense of purpose in students?

How do we develop a social skills course that students like to do?

20,000

Australian school teachers and educators have gained training in the acclaimed - Rock and Water Program

Why is this program so popular?

The Rock and Water Program teaches...

- Practical Anti-Bullying strategies
- Alternatives to aggressive verbal and physical responses to fear and doubt
- Thinking and being in control, through grounding, centeredness and mental focus.
- Self respect, self control and self confidence

offers educators a new way to interact with students through physical/social teaching.

Physical exercises are constantly linked with mental and social skills. The program leads from simple self defence, boundary and communication exercises to a strong notion of self-confidence. The program offers a framework of exercises and ideas about students to assist students to become aware of purpose and motivation in their life.

Topics include: intuition, body language, mental strength, empathic feeling, positive feeling, positive thinking and positive visualising. Discussion topics include bullying, sexual harassment, homophobia, life goals, desires and following an inner compass.
